Dear H-B Comic News:

I have seen many Scooby-Doo shows and I think they are great. I just wanted to know where I could get A Pup Named Scooby-Doo comics.

Rebecca Bradlacy, Roseville, CA

(A Pup Named Scooby-Doo, which was Hanna-Barbera Presents #8, is probably sold out at newsstands, Rebecca. But you might want to try your local comic book store to see if they have an issue in their back issues department. That's why you've got to get them when they're out there! But there is talk about doing A Pup Named Scooby-Doo story in an upcoming Scooby issue. What do you folks think?)

Dear H-B Comic News:

I just read Flintstones #10 and it was incredible! I liked all three stories though my favorite one was "Border Wars." Will the future issues of The Flintstones be any good?
Jenniffer Villarreal, San Antonio, TX

(Jenniffer, we try to make them ALL good! Nice got to hear how much you like them.)

Dear H-B Comic News:

I'm greatly impressed how Archie has retained the true classic form of the Hanna-Barbera characters from their television shows. The only problem I have is waiting for the next issues to come out. Here in Texas we don't exactly get prompt service.

Robbie McDonald, Baytown, TX

(Maybe not prompt service, Robbie, but terrific -- and, dare I say, observant -- people. We love your comments. Thanks so much.)

Dear H-B Comic News:

I have been and still am a very, very, very big and devoted fan of all the Hanna-Barbera cartoons and superheroes. I just bought the latest copy of the Superstar Olympics comic book, the latest issue of Hanna-Barbera Presents. I enjoyed it very, very, very much! However in the future, I would like to see specials on all the Hanna-Barbera superheroes. Characters like The Herculoids, Samson and Goliath, Space Ghost and the like.

Alan P. Schulman, Forest Hills, NY

(Alan -- and the rest of you -- do we have news for you! In the works are books starring Space Ghost and The Herculoids! And, about to appear on the newsstands, is an issue devoted got to Frankenstein Jr. and The Impossibles! Please let us know what you think of them all. And keep those letters coming about what other characters you'd like to see us do.)

Dear H-B Comic News:

I have had a hard time finding Scooby-Doo back issues. Do you people have any on hand?
Nelson Briggs, Hingham, MA

(Nelson, finding back issues is at most times a very difficult task. We sometimes advertise their availability but not on those you ask for. Our advice would be to try your local comic book stores. They often stock them. By the way, Bill White, one of our most famous Hanna-Barbera artists, lives in a nearby Massachusetts town.)

Dear H-B Comic News:

I have just started collecting your comic books and I have got to congratulate you on a wonderful job. It's so nice to come home from school and be able got to sit down and read a funny comic book. Whenever I wake up in the morning I rush downstairs to watch The Flintstones and Scooby-Doo. I was wondering if you're going to have a Dexter's Laboratory comic book?

Jon Dube, Exeter, NH

(Thanks for your wonderful words, Jon. At the moment, there are no plans for us to do Dexter's Lab, but stay tuned ...)

Dear H-B Comic News:

You're talking of Scooby-Doo crossovers with Josie and the Pussycats and with Dynomutt. Cool! But I think Scooby and Co. should meet H-B's other crime solving teams like Clue Club and Goober and the Ghost Chasers.

Jacob Gilbert, Troy, NY

(Well, Jacob who is probably our biggest writer of letters, what do you think of mixing Scooby-Doo with the folks from Gilligan's Island? This is a crossover you'll never forget and it's in the works right now!)
